

UQL Cyberschool Subject Guide: Studies of Change – Ethical Dilemmas

Getting started

What information are you seeking? Write down key words from your assignment topic to use in your search. Make a list of keywords and synonyms you will be able to use as search terms.

Keywords	Synonyms

Now start your search for information.

Reference

If you are not sure what your topic is all about, look it up in a dictionary or encyclopaedia. Start with definitions, maps, timelines or biographical snapshots, to put your topic into perspective.

Title	Location	Call Number
Oxford companion to philosophy	SSAH	B51.O94 2005
Encyclopedia of philosophy	SSAH 3 day	B41.E5 1996
The Oxford dictionary of philosophy	SSAH	B41 .B53 2005
Encyclopedia of world poverty	SSAH Ref	HV12 .E54 2006
The human rights encyclopedia	SSAH Ref	JC571 .L523 2001 v.3
Macmillan encyclopedia of world slavery	SSAH Ref	HT861 .M24 1998 v.2

Books

Books are a good starting point. Use the Keyword search option in the Library catalogue. You can search on words like Poverty, Refugees, Human Rights, Slavery or Nuclear disarmament.

(Tips: use a question mark (?) in a word to expand your search e.g. wom?n will find results for both women and woman and use an asterisk () at the end of a word to expand your search e.g. Ethic will find results for both Ethics and Ethical.)

Try the subject search for subjects such as Ethics, Military history -- 20th century, Poverty Developing Countries, Stem cells – Research, Human Rights Philosophy. You can also browse the catalogue using subject keywords to find SUBJECT HEADINGS, or browse the shelves at the CALL NUMBERS indicated in your research: B – Philosophy, Psychology, Religion, HV - Social pathology, Social and public welfare, Criminology , JC - Political theory, HT – Communities, Classes, Races.

Now add resources you have found, using the Keywords you listed for your topic.

Journals

For recent information, journal articles are often the best sources. Looking through journals in the hope of finding relevant material is time consuming. It is better to use full text databases to find articles on your topic. If your school subscribes to databases through UQL Cyberschool, you can access them at school (or home) through your Library network. See your Teacher Librarian for details and passwords. Some of the databases available to schools for free through your local (Brisbane City) Council Library or the State Library of Queensland are found at <http://www.slq.qld.gov.au/find/articles>

JSTOR	JSTOR is a multidisciplinary archive of high-resolution, scanned scholarly journals. It is not a current issues database. Because of JSTOR's archival mission, there is a gap, from 1 to 5 years, between the most recently published journal issue and the back issues available. Subject areas covered include economics, law, history, Asian studies, Middle Eastern studies, language, literature, music, film studies, performing arts, religion and visual arts.
Humanities & Social Sciences Collection (Informit)	Covers agriculture, arts, Asian studies, business, cultural studies, education, history, indigenous studies, law, media, political science, reference, social sciences, science and technology. Content sources include peer reviewed journals, monographs and books, conference proceedings, research papers and reference materials.

Refer to the Keywords you listed previously to use as initial search terms. For example, to find information about specific Ethical Issues you could search JSTOR, limiting the search to articles with full text, using the phrase such as ethical issues poverty in a Keyword search.
