

Changes to resources accessible from CKN for Hospital staff

Following a review of resources, the UQ Library is cancelling its provision of access via CKN to:

- SpringerLINK and Wiley Blackwell Publishing Medical and Nursing Collection

While access from CKN will no longer be available from 2009*, eJournals from both packages will continue to be available for download at your hospital branch library. For listings of the journals in these packages please contact: hysl@library.uq.edu.au. We apologise for any inconvenience.

 Each year the UQ Library assesses its online subscriptions to maximise access to resources within budget realities. These two eJournal packages are very expensive and have not been used heavily via CKN.*

- CINAHL Full Text and ProQuest Health and Medical Complete

A proposal to continue making these resources available via CKN through Corporate funding has been submitted to the QH Director General. Your hospital branch library will keep you informed of developments.
