Biography
The Camerata Theatre was formed in 1976 by a group of largely young people who had been active in drama in Brisbane. Its aims were to perform and promote interest in rarely seen plays of a high artistic standard, and to provide theatrical training for members and young people. Many of its productions were held at the Avalon Theatre, St Lucia. The Camerata Theatre's last performance was in December 1981, when costs forced it to close.
