Peter Fitzallan MacDonald Collection

Size 5 boxes

Contents Pastoral records of ‘Yaamba’, near Rockhampton. Letterbooks, diaries, correspondence, financial records, and fragments of manuscript notes.

Biography Peter Fitzallan MacDonald, known as P F MacDonald of Yaamba Station, near Rockhampton, was born on 4 September 1830 at Campbelltown, NSW. He was educated at King’s School, Parramatta. He worked in his father’s business for a while, then came to Bendigo for gold prospecting. Due to ill health, he became an overseer on a sheep and cattle run near Geelong from 1851 to 1854. He left Geelong in 1857 to come to Queensland to explore the Rockhampton region for three years. In 1858 he nearly perished when his exploring party was cut off by flood, 350km west of Keppel Bay. In 1860, he settled down at Yaamba to develop his various lease holdings. In 1861, in revenge of the Nogoa murder committed by the Aborigines, he organised a private party to assist police to hunt down the attackers. P F Macdonald dominated the news from 1869 to 1880 when he was involved in a lawsuit against the Crown ‘Macdonald vs. Tully’ in the Great Northern Run Case. He nearly lost all of his fortune during the long drought of 1900 to 1902. He was in the House of Assembly representing Blackall from 1873 to 1878. He was a member of various agricultural associations. He was married to Julia Ayrey in 1861; they had 2 sons and 2 daughters. He died in 1919.

Notes Open access, except access to Boxes 1 to 4 is restricted due to fragile condition of the documents. Application for access to restricted material can be submitted to the Fryer Librarian for consideration.
